

30th Anniversary

Cullowhee Native Plant Conference

July 17-20, 2013

Western Carolina University

<http://nativeplantconference.wcu.edu>

Poster Competition

Dick Bir

Dan Pittillo
Field Trips
Doug Tallamy

Hands-on Workshops

Janisse Ray

Botanizing

NC Mountains

30th Anniversary

Rick Lewandowski
Plants
Charlie Williams

Dennis Werner

Canoeing

Master Gardeners

Have a special interest in native plants? If so, please join us for the outdoor walks, workshops, plenary and other sessions of the 30th 2013 Cullowhee Conference, all designed to enhance landscaping with native plants.

For more information, visit:

<http://nativeplantconference.wcu.edu>

Register online from:

April 1 - July 12

(Click "Learn more" at the link above)

Questions? Please contact:

Tom Oder

toder@wwediting.com

The Cullowhee Conference is dedicated to the advancement of research, knowledge and sustainable practices in native plant landscaping as well as the allied fields of horticulture and K-12 environmental and science education. The conference is an informal gathering that attracts a diverse group of professionals, gardeners and students, many of whom return year after year for inspiration, knowledge and fun!

Please join in the 30th anniversary celebration.