

UT's Initiative for Quaternary Paleoclimate Research and the Department of Geography invite you to participate in a hands-on

Workshop on Chironomids in Paleoclimate Research

led by Dr. David Porinchu

Department of Geography, University of Georgia

Tuesday, July 9, 2013: 10:00 a.m. until mid afternoon

401 Burchfiel Geography Building

Attend all day to learn lab techniques or visit briefly to meet David and look at cool insect fossils!

