

My name is Jonathan Dudley. I am a junior majoring in Studio Art while pursuing a Minor in Art History. I am interested in either becoming an assistant professor of Art following a commitment to Teach For America and obtaining my MFA during my time with that program, or attempting to enter the animation and design field as a beginning Digital Matte Painter after taking some time off to travel the world after graduating. I am the lead singer / guitarist in a punk rock band called Furthest From Fame with my brother and have plans to enter the studio in Philadelphia in December of this year to record our new LP, "We Are Lanterns." Art has been and will always be how I strive to make sense of the world and myself whether it be through visual arts, writing, or composing, recording and performing music.

I am interested in the Historian position within Gamma Beta Phi primarily because of my current enrollment in Digital Matte Painting this semester. I am finally getting the chance to delve into the technical aspects of digital photography and the imaginative world of photoshop in this course and would love the chance to help document the great work that Gamma Beta Phi accomplishes both at the University of Tennessee and in the community of Knoxville during the final year of my undergraduate career. Thank you for your time and consideration.

My name is Brenna McMackin, and I am a senior Kinesiology major here at the University of Tennessee. I'm a transfer student from Orlando, FL; and yes, I do love Disney. I currently work at Panera Bread on the strip and have worked for this company for over 6 years now. I also have had a job as a bank teller. I would describe myself as being creative, dedicated, and organized. Sports are a big part of my life and I enjoy hanging out with my friends. Whenever I can find some free time, I like to read books, craft, or watch movies. Some may think that I am shy and reserved, but once you get to know me I'm pretty easy to talk to!

I am interested in the historian position because I really love photography, and I am very creative. I scrapbook all the time and love seeing pictures come together to document memories. I used to be on the yearbook staff in high school, and I am experienced in working in collaboration with others. I also wanted to be more involved in Gamma Beta Phi, and I believe this position best fits my skills and interests.

Hello Gamma Beta Phi members! My name's Aislinn Bos, and I'm a junior majoring in Psychology and minoring in French. Volunteering and serving my community are very important to me. In my future career as a clinical psychologist, I'll be seeing people every day and helping them get through their mental struggles. I chose to run for Treasurer specifically because I am very responsible and organized, especially with finances! Thank you for your consideration!
