

David L Nieland

---

Subject: Conservation Biology Internship - Washington State

Pacific Biodiversity Institute has an opening for a conservation science intern to assist with research on the western gray squirrel and ponderosa pine forests, ecological impact of recent wildfires on a variety of wildlife species, and with our first annual Conservation Science and Leadership Field Course.

Learn more and find an application here:

http://pacificbio.org/jobs\_interns/Conservation\_Biology\_internship\_advertisement.html