Subject: Graduate assistant positions - Hood College Dept. of Biology

Hood College Department of Biology is seeking two candidates to serve as graduate assistants starting August 1, 2016. Candidates must be accepted into either the BMS or ENV graduate program; both current students and students entering the program for Fall 2016 are welcome to apply. New students will need to complete the admissions process separately through the graduate school (<http://www.hood.edu/graduate/>).

Please submit your application online with all requested materials by April 15th for best consideration.
