

David L Nieland

Subject: Botany workshops, Isle Royale National Park (Lake Superior), 6-11 June and 6-11 Sept. 2016

Spaces are available for two botany workshops being offered in Isle Royale National Park (located in western Lake Superior) this summer by the Isle Royale & Keweenaw Parks Association.

June 6-11: Rock Harbor (most easily accessed by ferry from Houghton, Michigan).

September 6-11 Windigo (most easily accessed by ferry from Grand Portage, Minnesota).

These special botany workshops are open to anyone with beginning/intermediate knowledge of plant identification who would like to learn to identify plants of Isle Royale. You'll learn to use such tools as a dichotomous key and hand lens to identify plants. Plant communities, rare species, ecology, and invasive species will be discussed. Workshop registration fees include instruction, round-trip ferry transportation, meals, and group camping.

To learn more about these two botany workshops (and an Isle Royale photography workshop), please visit: <http://irkpa.org/get-involved/workshops>

Janet Marr, Botanist
23180 Highway Rd.
Calumet, MI 49913
phone: 906-337-5529
email: jkmarr@mtu.edu