KNOXVILLE

Time: Mondays 3:40-5:40 PM during the first half of fall semester (eight-week 1 credit dialogue course)

Description: Dialogue is a unique form of communication with the goal of developing shared meaning, rather than “winning” in debates, or bouncing ideas off each other in discussions (Bohm, 1996). The course is aimed to bring both international students and U.S. students together to discuss commonalities and differences of experience and work towards social justice.
