Subject: Job: Coastal Ecologist Position at University of Virginia

Colleagues -

I want to bring to your attention again the Coastal Ecologist position at UVA at the Assistant or Associate level. We will begin reviewing applications on December 1st.

Best,

Karen McGlathery

Professor, Department of Environmental Sciences

Lead PI, Virginia Coast Reserve LTER

The University of Virginia Arts & Sciences Department of Environmental Sciences invites applicants for an Assistant or Associate Professor position in Coastal Ecology. We seek candidates dedicated to our mission and passionate about research and teaching in a world-class institution. We wish to hire an outstanding scientist who will thrive in an interdisciplinary department with hydrologists, atmospheric scientists, ecologists and geoscientists.

Examples of research areas of particular interest for this search include, but are not limited to, wetland ecology, coastal landscape ecology and biotic interactions in coastal systems. The University has a coastal field station on the Eastern Shore of Virginia, which hosts the Virginia Coast Reserve Long-Term Ecological Research Project. Preference will be given to candidates with an interest in contributing to the VCR-LTER project and with the potential for taking a leadership role in our coastal research program.

In addition to developing external funding to support research endeavors, candidates will be expected to teach at the graduate and undergraduate levels, including the teaching of our undergraduate core course for majors (EVSC 3200, Fundamentals of Ecology), and provide service to the University, Department and professional organizations.

Review of applications will begin December 1, 2016. The appointment begins with the fall term of 2017, with an anticipated start date of July 25, 2017. Applicants must be on track to receive a Ph.D. in the relevant field by May 2017 and must hold a PhD at the time of appointment.

To apply candidates must submit a Candidate Profile through Jobs@UVA (<https://jobs.virginia.edu>), search on posting number 0619572 and electronically attach the following: a cover letter of interest describing research agenda and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae and contact information for three references.

Questions regarding the application process in JOBS@UVa should be directed to: Rachel Short, rbs2n@virginia.edu, 434-924-7763. Questions regarding the position should be directed to Karen McGlathery, Search Committee Chair, kjm4k@virginia.edu.
