Subject: Please distribute: Two USFWS Term Fish Biologist Positions: Columbia, MO
Date: Monday, November 28, 2016 10:56:33 AM

The US Fish and Wildlife Service's Columbia Fish and Wildlife Conservation Office is pleased to announce two open term GS 7/9 ($40,033 - $63,654) fish biologist positions. Each position will uniquely address the diverse fisheries needs for the Columbia Office. One incumbent will implement strategic habitat conservation for native fish and mussel species through the National Fish Passage Program, National Fish Habitat Partnership, and other Service programs. The other incumbent will work on Asian carp management and control efforts, working with partners to develop and implement projects, and/or sampling for Asian carp.
