Subject: Postdoctoral Researcher Position in Forest Insect Pollinator Ecology University of Georgia

The Warnell School of Forestry and Natural Resources at the University of Georgia, Athens invites applications from highly motivated and enthusiastic potential postdoctoral researchers starting in Spring/Summer 2017. This collaborative work will be conducted with Dr. Kamal J.K. Gandhi and Dr. James Martin (Warnell School of Forestry and Natural Resources). This project focuses on the interactions between forest insect pollinators and various management practices in North America. The ideal candidate would possess a strong background in entomology, ecology, and statistics with an independent spirit to develop, conduct, and publish research. Experience with meta-analyses is preferred. A Ph.D. in a related field, especially in forest ecology and entomology is a prerequisite for the position.
