

From: Swadek, Rebecca (Parks)
Subject: Job Opportunities at NYC Parks

---

NYC Parks has several job opportunities in the Division of Forestry, Horticulture, and Natural Resources.

NYC Parks is the steward of nearly 30,000 acres of land — 14 percent of New York City. The Natural Resources Group (NRG) is a division within NYC Parks, and is responsible for acquisition, protection, restoration, and management of remnant and restored natural areas within the City's parkland. NRG develops natural areas management and restoration programs and provides technical research that aids in the protection of the City's natural resources. The following positions are open within our division:

- <!--[if !supportLists]-->1. <!--[endif]-->Hydrologist
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->2. <!--[endif]-->Environmental Protection Project Manager
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->3. <!--[endif]-->Environmental Permits Coordinator
- <!--[if !supportLists]-->4. <!--[endif]-->Field Scientist – there are two vacancies for this position, one with a vegetation focus and the other with a wildlife focus

Postings may be found on the NYC Parks website (<https://www.nycgovparks.org/opportunities/jobs>). Directions for application may be found on the postings. All applications should be received by April 21, 2017.

Rebecca Swadek

Senior Wetlands Restoration Program Manager
Forestry, Horticulture, and Natural Resources
NYC Parks

T 212.360.1436

C 469.328.0163

E rebecca.swadek@parks.nyc.gov