

From: Peter McCarthy
Subject: MS Marine Science and Oceanography

FAU Now Accepting Applications for New Marine Science and Oceanography Graduate Degree Program

Florida Atlantic University is now accepting applications for a new program that provides an unprecedented opportunity for graduate students to earn a master's degree while working alongside leading scientists and engineers at FAU's Harbor Branch Oceanographic Institute and the Charles E. Schmidt College of Science. The newly launched Master of Science in Marine Science and Oceanography graduate degree program is the opportunity of a lifetime for students interested in coastal and oceanographic science.

This hands-on experience will provide students with a broad understanding of coastal, nearshore and oceanographic science while learning how to conduct independent research. Students will be prepared for careers in research, education, government, private-sector consulting and non-profit organizations. Applications are being accepted now through August 4th for admission in the Fall 2017 semester.

For more information and to apply online, visit www.fau.edu/hboi/education/msmso.php.