

GeoSym 2018 Presents:

Lightning Talks

At the 3rd biennial

Geography Research Symposium

February 15 & 16, 2018

Want to practice your elevator speech?

Or practice communicating science to the public?

consider presenting a 5-minute lightning talk instead of a traditional conference talk or poster at:

Geosym2018:

“Mapping Outside the Lines: Geography as a Nexus for Interdisciplinary and collaborative Research”

Undergraduate and graduate students from all departments are encouraged to participate!

Sign up with a title and a short abstract by January 22nd at:
