

Precarious Childhoods and Exceptionalism in the U.S./Mexico Borderlands: Deported Mexican Migrant/Refugee Children and Youth

Dr. Rebecca Maria Torres is Associate Professor of Geography at the University of Texas--Austin. Since 2015, she has collaborated with a bi-national, trans-disciplinary team of scholars focusing on refugee/migrant children and youth from Mexico and Central America.

Department of Geography
Annual Hammond Distinguished Lecture
November 7, 2019, Lindsay Young Auditorium,
UT Library (First floor)

Reception begins at 3:00pm (Auditorium Gallery) with lecture to follow at 3:40pm

A 5th grade girl's drawing depicting the dangers of migration