

NEW UNDERGRADUATE COURSE FALL 2020!
POLI 410 (SPECIAL TOPICS) SECTION 002 3 CREDITS
12:40 – 1:55 TUESDAY & THURSDAY IN HSS 71C

Race, Ethnicity, and American Politics

For the first time ever, more than half of children in the US are expected to be part of a racial or ethnic minority group (according to Census projections). Yet, America is still grappling with what “race” is, how it intersects with other identities, and the way that it structures politics. This course will give you the skills and depth of understanding needed to understand identity in America. It will cover the genesis of race, its historical roots, and its role in shaping politics today.

Don't miss out on taking UTK's new course on race, ethnicity, and politics!

FOR QUESTIONS, CONTACT

Professor: Leah Christiani christiani@utk.edu