

GEOGRAPHY OF HUMAN RIGHTS: AFRICA AND THE AMERICAS GEO 350 SPRING 2021

- Students taking this course will examine genocides/ethnic cleansings that have occurred in the Americas and Africa.
- In this course we deepen our understanding of human nature, of organized society, political leadership, democratic participation, and civilization itself.
- Understanding the cultural landscapes that include political, historical and economic geographic considerations will allow for a diverse perspective on how human rights violations occur.

* Will be taught as a HYBRID course
